

Parent Concerns Contacts

Parents who have concerns about their child's progress or well being in school should first discuss issues with their child's teacher. Most issues are resolved during this important step. We do ask that parents refrain from addressing these issues with teachers during instructional time. Please make time before or after school to talk with teachers regarding these issues. Should there be continuing concerns, please contact an administrator. If there are custody/restraining orders that will help us protect your child. We need that information as soon as it is available.
